

TAG HEUER AQUARACER

PROFESSIONAL 1000

SUPERDIVER

DEEP DIVER

The TAG Heuer Aquaracer is made to endure any conditions, just like this 45mm Superdiver. Rated to an incredible 1000M of water resistance, this ISO 6425 certified titanium watch is built for saturation diving and ultimate reliability.

KEY FEATURES

CASE

The 45mm grade 5 titanium case of the TAG Heuer Aquaracer Superdiver has a crown protector and helium escape valve to handle 1000M of depth. On the ceramic bezel, the first quarter is orange, highlighting the portion most often used for timing decompression stops.

DIAL

The indicator for the hour is in the form of an arrow with the aim of increasing underwater visibility thanks to its sizeable area for Super-LumiNova®. The minute and second hands are orange in colour highlight the most useful hands for diving purposes.

CASEBACK

To complete the Aquaracer Professional 300's look and feel, the designers returned to the famous scaphander diving suit that first appeared on the Aquaracer case back in 2004.

BRACELET

This new reference also integrates the Aquaracer Professional 300's sophisticated fine adjustment system on the strap that can extend or reduce the bracelet length by up to 1.5 cm. This enables any wearers to resize the bracelet so the watch can be worn on any occasion.

SUPER-LUMINOVA®

The black sunray brushed dial has large indexes and hands filled with Super-LumiNova®, while the orange ceramic ensures visibility when it matters.
